Our laboratory is equipped with the most modern testing equipment used in essential tests which are carried out after or during the production of every cable. Some of the machines we have for such tests are very special such as corrosivity and smoke density testing room & equipment and fire resistant special cable testing equipment. Such tests are carried out according to the standards of IEC 60332-1 / 60332-3 / 60331 / BS 6387 C-W-Z / EN 50200 . For each delivery, we prepare a test report for each cable, reissuing the main tests for the cables , and we send the reports with the official documents to our customers.

Since 2004 we have been carrying out the most modern control methods in our company through an ERP programme which directly monitors and records detailed data. The system gives the opportunity to have superior and immediate control over the procurement, planning, production, sales, storing and customer relations processes and thus enables the total quality to be better.

To perform our after-sales services better, we have started by 2007 a free customer complaint & suggestions direct phone line to be able to listen to customer suggestions and to directly take action to fix any problem that might have occurred.
